

Saxton Trench: East wall

D. Mason Figure DR-3

 Individual clast (where differentiated)

Paleosol

Contact

- - - - - Inferred/gradational contact

Fault

— Inferred Fault

A square icon containing a diagonal hatching pattern, representing the zone of modern soil formation.

Peat/very organic silt

Organic silt

Inorganic clay/gilt

Gravel

A small black rectangular box containing four small, dark, irregular shapes, possibly representing a microscopic view or a specific experimental setup.

1

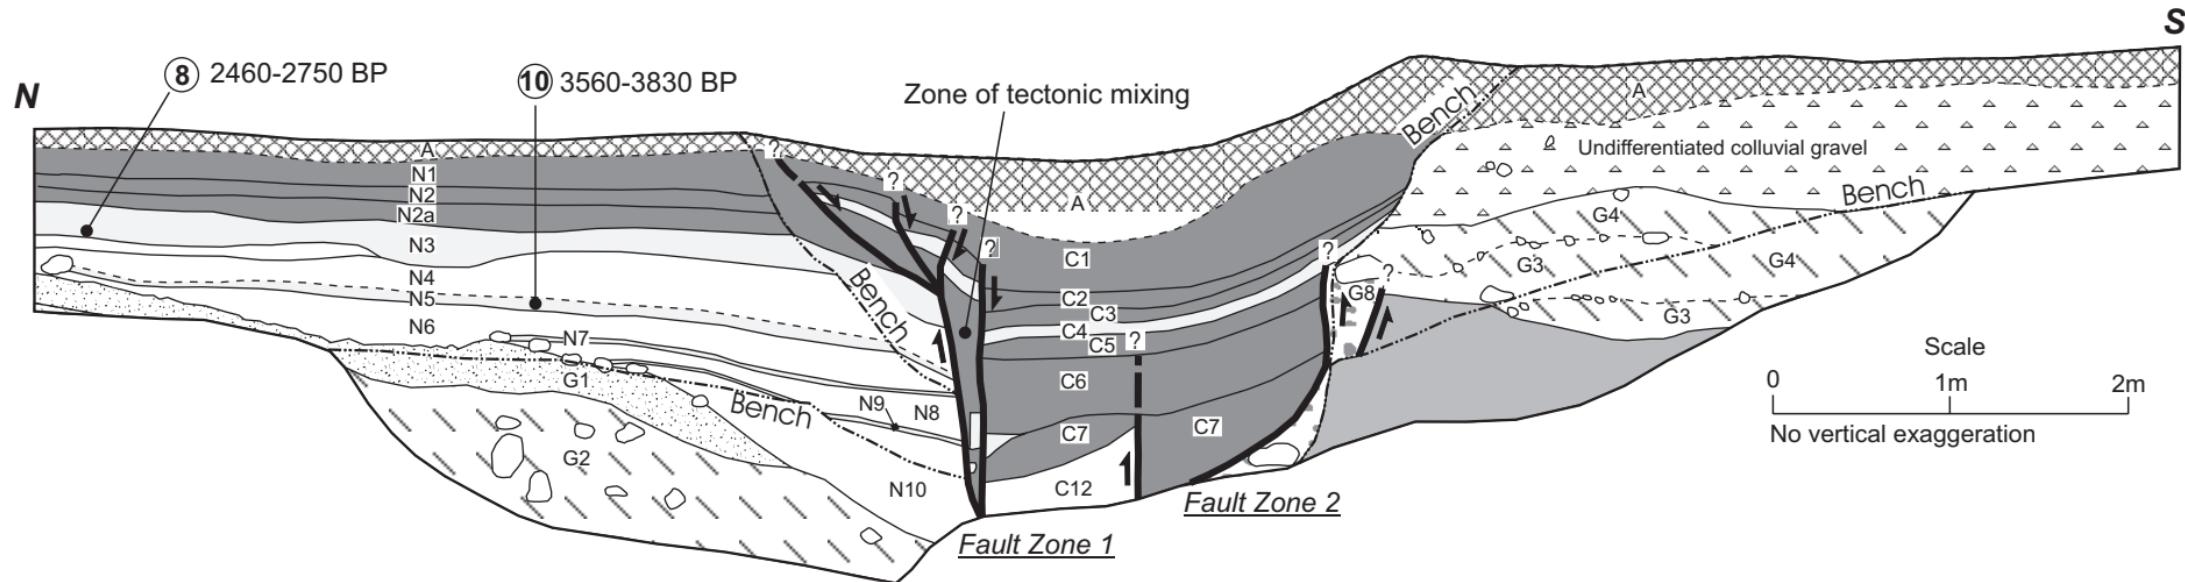

10 of 10

View Details

A horizontal line segment representing a scale. At the left end is the number 0. At the right end is the number 20. A vertical tick mark is positioned exactly halfway between 0 and 20, labeled with the number 10 above the line.

Saxton Trench: West wall

[Inverted image]

Zone of modern soil formation

Peat/very organic silt

Organic silt

Inorganic clay/silt

Gravely mud

Gravel

Colluvial gravel

Alluvial fan gravels

Indurated sandstone (greywacke) basement

Paleosol

Individual clast (where differentiated)

Contact

Inferred/gradational contact

Fault

Inferred Fault